Welcome to the IUL club.

This guide is designed to help you understand the basics of an IUL policy.

Before we get started, congratulations!

You're taking steps to secure your financial freedom, protect your loved ones and build generational wealth. In this illustration, we are providing an estimate of the future performance of your indexed universal life insurance policy. We will include information such as projected premiums, death benefits, and fund values, as well as any assumptions that were used to make the projections. This illustration is meant to help you understand the benefits and costs of your policy.

So, what is indexed universal life insurance, really?

Indexed universal life insurance (IUL) is a type of permanent life insurance. It combines the death benefit protection of traditional life insurance with a wealth building component, which allows you to allocate your premiums to indexed accounts. The value of your indexed accounts is determined by the performance of an underlying index, with downside protection of a floor against losses, and subject to a cap.

The purpose of this illustration is to provide detailed information about a flexible premium universal life insurance policy with an indexed feature. It's an illustration only, however, and not a contract or a part of the life insurance policy. Your actual coverage is subject to the terms and conditions of the policy. An illustration is not intended to predict actual performance. It contains both guaranteed and non-guaranteed elements, and unless we have labeled items as guaranteed they are non-guaranteed. Your IUL Benefits

Policy Loans

Policyholders can borrow against the fund value of their IUL policy, and the loan amount is not subject to income tax as long as the policy remains in force.

Flexibility

IUL allows policyholders to reduce their coverage or adjust premium payments as their needs change.

Death Benefit Protection

An IUL policy provides a tax-free death benefit to the policy's beneficiaries in the event of the policyholder's death.

Potential for Higher Returns

Because the fund value of a IUL policy receives credits based on a market index, policyholders have the potential to earn higher returns than they would with a traditional whole life policy.

Tax Advantages ¹

- The fund value accumulates tax-deferred.
- You can access your fund by withdrawing, or a tax-advantaged policy loan.
- Transfer between your accounts tax-free.

1. We are not advising on the tax implications and encourage you to consult your legal or tax consultant about any tax questions. Some of the tax advantages are available only if the insurance contract has not become a modified endowment contract.

Added IUL Benefits from Amplify

LOW BENEFIT COSTS

Simple, straightforward cost structure. No surprises or hidden fees.

INDEXED LOANS

Loaned fund value can continue to qualify for indexed credits, allowing for liquidity and growth potential.

FUTURE PROTECTION RIDERS

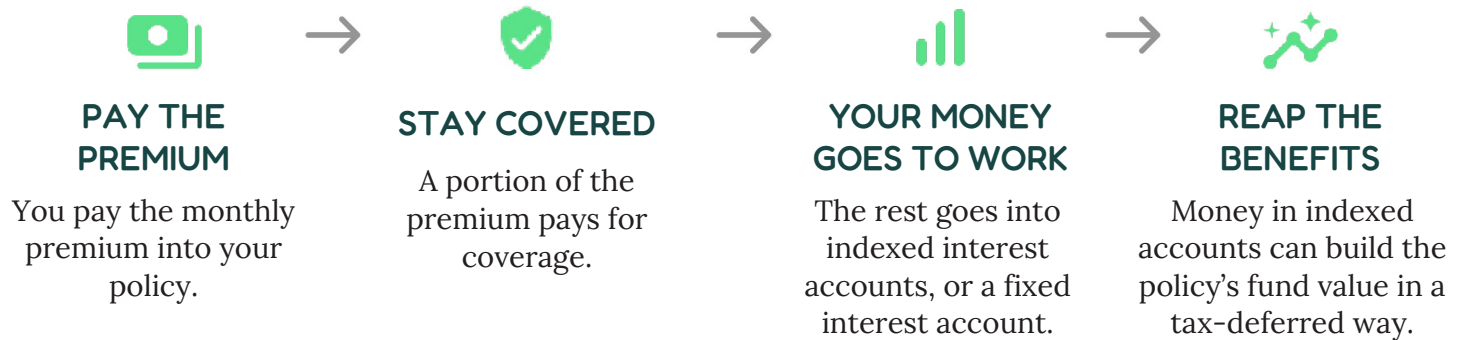

We offer overloan protection to ensure that if you take money out of your policy, you won't run the risk of tax implications.

How an IUL Policy Works

Your Amplify Indexed Universal Life (IUL) policy gives you access to the fund value of your policy when you need it most and offers a death benefit to protect your loved ones. Part of your payment goes to coverage, while the rest goes to indexed accounts that can earn interest with tax advantages. Here is how it works.

Illustration Overview

This illustration aims to help you understand how your Prosper Indexed Universal Life (IUL) policy works. It does not predict actual performance, nor is it part of the policy contract. Please refer to your current Policy Form for complete terms and conditions of your coverage.

This illustration assumes that the currently illustrated nonguaranteed elements will continue unchanged for all years shown. This is not likely to occur, and actual results may be more or less favorable than those shown.

Death Benefit

A death benefit will be paid to the beneficiary in the event of the Insured's death while the policy is in force. The amount of the death benefit is based on the policy's specified amount, fund value, and death benefit option.

The death benefit may be reduced by partial surrenders or policy loans. The death benefit may also be reduced upon request.

DEATH BENEFIT OPTIONS

The policy offers two death benefit options which are used to determine the amount of death benefit payable.

1. Option 1: The death benefit is the Specified Amount on the date of death.
2. Option 2: The death benefit is the Specified Amount plus the fund values on the date of death.

For both Option 1 and Option 2 the death benefit will never be less than the minimum required to meet the definition of life insurance provided in IRS section 7702.

The purpose of this illustration is to provide detailed information about a flexible premium universal life insurance policy with an indexed feature. FEDERAL TAX QUALIFICATION AS LIFE INSURANCE

To qualify as life insurance for federal tax purposes, your policy must meet the requirements of the Guideline Premium Test or Cash Value Accumulation Test.

This illustration assumes the policy qualifies under the Guideline Premium Test.

To meet the requirements of the Guideline Premium Test, the cumulative premiums paid into the policy can never exceed the greater of the guideline single premium or the accumulated guideline level premiums.

Guideline Single Premium: $32,500.27

Guideline Level Premium: $2,119.86

Further, the death benefit of the policy must never be less than the fund value multiplied by a factor that varies by insured attained age and sex.

The premiums and death benefit shown in this illustration reflect these requirements.

SECTION 7702A - MODIFIED ENDOWMENT CONTRACTS

A life insurance policy into which premium payments made during the first seven years of the contract, or during the first seven years after a material change, exceed the Modified Endowment Premium limit as defined by section 7702A of the Internal Revenue Code. Distributions from these types of contracts are subject to less favorable tax treatment than distributions from policies that are not MECs. A policy consistent with this illustration would not be classified as a MEC as defined by Section 7702A of the Internal Revenue Code.

Maximum Illustrated Rate

The maximum illustrated rate for this illustration is determined in accordance with Actuarial Guideline 49B. The method considers how a hypothetical indexed account would have performed in all 25-year periods in the past 65 years. The hypothetical indexed account used in this calculation is identical to the S&P Capped Indexed Account offered on this policy, reflecting the current index cap, index floor, and participation rate. The maximum rate permitted in the illustration is the average return of all 25-year periods and is shown below. The minimum return over a 25-year period and the maximum return over a 25-year period are also shown for reference.

ACCOUNT	MAXIMUM ILLUSTRATED RATE	HISTORICAL 25-YEAR MINIMUM	HISTORICAL 25-YEAR MAXIMUM
S&P 500 CAPPED INDEX ACCOUNT	5.79%	-38.49%	29.60%

All values in the Indexed Account History Report are provided for reference only. Past index credits are not predictive of future performance. Values on this page are based on the current index cap, which is subject to change.
